

MEMORIAL JEWELLERY

From personalised pieces to discreet ash-holding keepsakes, the last few years have seen rising interest in memorial jewellery. The following four companies offer a range of items to help your clients keep memories of their loved ones close at hand.

ALGORDANZA UK

ALGORDANZA is the only ISO Certified memorial diamond producer in the world and has a laboratory in Switzerland that can be visited at any time. The company turns cremation ashes into memorial diamonds, that last forever and can be passed down as heirlooms.

ALGORDANZA memorial diamonds are an addition or alternative to traditional burials. ALGORDANZA'S Hatton Garden based jewellery designer offers a bespoke jewellery service to clients to create a personal setting for the memorial diamonds. Funeral directors can expand their products and service offerings to attract new customers with these certified diamonds.

ALGORDANZA UK offers staff training on site, so your employees can offer competent consultation for families searching for unique keepsakes to remember their loved ones.
